Vision

To empower a generation to change the world
With science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Mathematics (STEAM)
STEAM projects need to be built around real problems that need to be solved. Students can design something that will help the world in some way – whether it’s building safer playground equipment, creating devices for fellow students with disabilities or designing solar homes.

STEAM isn’t a trend; it’s a necessity.

Implementation Considerations for SY 2021-22

When the new attendance boundaries go into effect in July 2021, all students within the catchment area of the New School on Ryan Ave. will be enrolled there by default.

Special consideration will given to these students:

- Current 4th graders at Forrest who wish to remain for 5th grade next year
  - Any of their younger siblings at Forrest who wish to remain for next year only
- Any IEP or ELL student receiving specialized academic services or programming not available at the New School on Ryan Ave. may remain at Forrest
The School District of Philadelphia provides families with the opportunity to apply to schools in all grades including Kindergarten. In addition to having the ability to attend a different neighborhood than the one connecting to your home address, students entering grades 5 to 8 have several different City Wide and Special Admit* options.
A special admit middle school is one that has a specialized program, and specific admissions criteria.

Academy for the Middle Years (AMY) at Northwest, Alternative Middle Years at James Martin, Carver Middle School for Engineering and Science, Filter Academics Plus, Conwell, Girard Academic Music Program (GAMP), Hamilton-AIMS Magnet Program, Hill-Freedman World Academh, Masterman, Overbrook Education Center, Science Leadership Academy at Beeber, Science Leadership Academy Middle School (SLAMS),

Once the School Selection Application Process opens again in September; schools, families and students can access the online application to submit requests for the the school or schools you would most like to attend. Please be mindful that the Application Process will close in November and be for admission in September 2022.
